

HOPE Candles

*Lovingly created for you
by Amy S. Hope*

Candles are perhaps one of the most enjoyable and affordable luxury items available today. They are beautiful and magical. Candles have come a long way since their initial use by the early Egyptians. Although no longer a major source of light, they continue to grow in popularity and use. Today, candles symbolize celebration, mark romance, soothe the senses, define ceremony, and accent the home — casting a warm, lovely glow and cozy ambiance to any room in the home. Everything seems lovelier by candlelight.

"I love candles and I've been making my own since I was a teenager. It all started when I was given a candle making kit for Christmas and I enjoyed the creative aspect of it. I've branched out more since my teens and have made many different types of candles; chunk, chakra, stained-glass, fancy container candles (sundaes, mugs of beer, cafe lattes and bowls of cherries), votives, floaters, and sacred candles. I especially love making the stained-glass candles because of the beautiful color combinations that just happen. My newest type of candle is the 'Sacred' candles made with pure essential oils frankincense & myrrh. I add a touch of gold with the spiral symbol for 'life'. Those oils have ancient historical healings attached to them and burning a Sacred candle will inspire you! All my candles are made with quality ingredients, love and care, and prayers of healing.

No two candles are exactly the same. Each candle I make is like a work of art to me. I use the same ingredients when I can, as well as the same decoration on the candle.

My candles are made with ingredients of quality, including the paraffin and palm wax, vegetable stearic acid, essential oils and lead-free wicking. But the most important ingredient I put into my candles is the love of making them for all to enjoy." --Amy S. Hope Stained-Glass Many of my customers order two of the stained-glass at a time. One to burn and one to admire for its beauty. They are made with discarded or unused wax of many different colors and scents. I then pour translucent wax over the carefully placed chunks of wax which when cooled is reminiscent of a stained-glass window of a church. I only add a small amount of vanilla scent to the whole candle. Once the candle starts to burn you'll notice that there are many more scents to enjoy! Large pillars and half pillars available.

Chakra Developed from a combination of stained-glass and chunk candles, I start by making scented solid colored cubes of wax from the seven main chakra colors. Beginning with the sacral chakra color red, I arrange them artfully in a pillar mold, and work my way up to the top chakra color, indigo. I then pour a translucent wax with a light vanilla or cinnamon scent over the cubes of wax to fill the container. A sprinkle of gold elegantly tops off the completed candle. They are not only beautiful to look at but are designed for healing each chakra. Only large pillars available.

Sacred To me, these are the loveliest of all the candles I make and the most special to me. Through the urging of a friend's guides and angels I was given the idea to make a candle for healing the mind, body and spirit. With the help of the ancient biblical oils of the orient, frankincense and myrrh, I've added love and prayers to these unique candles in the hope they will bring healing to every recipient. I truly feel God has blessed these candles! Large square and small round pillars are available.
